

Bound and illustrated volume

40 pages

Format 25 x 23,5 cm

Age: 3+

€ 16,90

Isbn 978-88-6945-077-8

A DELICATE METAPHOR TO TALK TO
THE CHILDREN ABOUT THE DIFFICULT
SITUATION OF A PARENT IN PRISON

CORA'S DREAM

THE BOOK

Once upon a time a company of artists performed in the greatest theaters of the world. Cora, the youngest artist, was very happy: she could sing and play and she had learned from her parents to perform difficult acrobatics. But one day her father disappeared and it wasn't one of those jokes which amazed the public.

Thus began the search of Cora who wants to know the truth and find his daddy.

THE AUTHORS

EMANUELA NAVA, tale. Famous writer for children, she has published many succesful books, translated in different countries of the world. Her texts speak about the things she cares most.

MARCO BRANCATO, illustrations. Illustrator and cartoonist, he lives in Bologna. He works as a freelance for Italian and international publishers and magazines, as well as for the recording industry by making animated videos. Winner of the II edition of the "Ronzinante Award", of the III edition of the "That's a Mole" of Turin and of the Illustration Contest held in 2016.

Series Squared stories

Illustrated books, with short simple stories aimed at the youngest readers, and with activity pages at the end.

A series collecting stories able to talk about important topics with soft and delicate words.